INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY INSTITUTE OF CANADA

Trade-mark Agent On-line Training Course

MODULE 1: OPPOSITION

october 22 - december 17, 2007

This Trade-marks Opposition Module will provide you with an overview of the legal principles surrounding opposition proceedings, as well as the practical skills required to successfully prosecute or defend an opposition.

learning objectives — learn how to:

- Develop a plan of action for your client based on his/her needs including when and why opposition should be considered and when and why to consider settlement
- Identify and apply various grounds of opposition and obtain familiarity with the Trade-mark Office Practice Rules and the relevant sections of the Trade-marks Act and Trade-mark Regulations
- Develop an understanding of the various stages of an opposition
- Obtain the knowledge and skills required to prepare documents relevant to an opposition proceeding including the statement of opposition, counterstatement and affidavits
- Develop and apply techniques required for the preparation of and attendance at cross examination and oral hearings including familiarity with relevant case law

on-line training

This on-line course will consist of a series of exercises undertaken individually over a period of 8 weeks. Assignments will be reviewed by an instructor. Students will participate in a web-based discussion forum.
